Aroob from Sheffield is six and has a severe neurological disorder. She is unable to walk or talk, has epilepsy and requires a feeding tube. But she doesn’t let this stop her being super happy and smiling as you can see from this photo of Aroob with her little brother!

Looking after Aroob takes a lot of time and effort, and so her parents struggled to make ends meet. Happy Days organised a break to Legoland giving the family a much needed holiday and a chance to forget their worries for a few days.

However you decide to help, get in touch and we’ll be on hand to give you plenty of practical advice and materials to support your efforts.

Since 1992, Happy Days has been organising and funding special days such as trips to the seaside, theatres, zoos, museums, outdoor activity centres, sporting events and other educational and cultural activities for children living with mental, physical and emotional difficulties.

Who do we help?

- Children with terminal and serious medical illnesses such as cancer and HIV
- With learning disabilities such as autism
- With physical difficulties including those who are wheelchair bound, have sight or hearing problems
- Who have been the victims of sexual or physical abuse
- Children who have lost a family member
- Young carers
- Children living in care such as children’s homes
- Children that are struggling with eating disorders, self-harm or anxiety

Our day trips, holidays and activities are so much more than just a nice day out.

- It’s something to look forward to.
- We remove barriers giving children the chance to escape isolation.
- It’s an opportunity to meet new friends and create a network for support now and into the future.
- It’s a chance to develop new skills.
- It helps kids develop independence.
- It allows them to socialise with new people in different ways.
- It’s a chance to “feel like any other child” and forget about their worries for a while.
- It gives children precious memories.
- All of which helps them build confidence.

- It supports learning – better to visit a castle than to read about it in a history book.

- It gives children experiences designed to support the development of skills and confidence.
- All of which helps them build confidence.
- It gives brave parents a vital break.

We are a small charity with only nine staff.

- We receive no government funding and rely completely on the kind support of people like you.
- We can arrange a special day out for as little as £10.
- All funds raised locally can be spent locally.
- So if you’d like your donation to help in your community, just ask.
